Viral Fever:-

My son Shloke, was suffering from high fever, and was very down, didn't feel like doing anything, not even watch t.v. After 2 days we were really worried, then Dr. Mehra explained to me that for viral fever it ~~took~~ takes almost 2-4 days, for the fever to subside and besides there was no way to find out that whether my son was suffering from viral or any other fever, except to go to Lilavati hospital and get a certain test done there, so according to his advice I decided to wait for one or two days and continue with his medicine. Next day my son's fever was a little better and by the second day it had totally subsided as I had followed his diet chart, Shloke was his usual self once the fever subsided, there was no lethargy and his diet was also normal. There was no weakness in him at all. Thanks to Dr. Mehra, I didn't have to give him any antibiotics.
