

Chronic gastritis, Depression
Sunit Shamraj.

I am suffering from hyperacidity since last 9 years & depression since last 4 years.

I am taking treatment since last 5 months. Since my hyperacidity is a psychosomatic problem, I got substantial (almost 80% on hyperacidity) relief in just 5 months.

This can be attributed to proper treatment, which is sincerely undertaken by me.

More important than this (according to me) is the "basic fundamental ^{Health} knowledge" which is required not only to cure problem but to maintain health. I am fortunate enough to keep on getting the same during treatment period. Thus this system ~~to~~ gives 'health in totality'.

Sincere efforts of mine in following Dr's instructions about medicines, diet & health regime, also has given me good results.

The different services viz. in clinic, over telephone are also important & satisfying.

The ~~can~~ uniqueness of the treatment, what I realized, is the 'amalgamation of every good ~~crux~~ from all systems of medicine, which is aimed at getting 100% health for patients.

Congrats for reaching at right place for health & Best wishes.
